East Cape with Steve Ross:

This picture was shot by the Western Outdoor News, Baja Section Editor, Ms. Robin Wade aboard Palmas de Cortez's cruiser the Maria II. On the left is Captain Martin and on the right is Marinero Alejandro. This was my Birthday present from my wife Gail on October 12, 2011. Hard for me to believe, but I am now 69 years of age.

This Sailfish was released back into the wild to chase some more trolled lures by us crazy Gringos. The air temperature was 90 degrees and the water temperature was also 90 degrees there on the Tropic of Cancer. He was caught on a live bait drop back as he was chasing all of my 7Strand lures in the pink pattern, trying to decide which one to eat.

As a participant in the Let's Talk Hook Up tournament, Gail and myself, with both of our Sailfish, qualified to win the "Most Billfish Released" Division of this tournament. We had such a great time that we signed up again for next year in October, 2012..

Well you can't call me skinny, or Flaco as they say in Spanish, but I am 90 pounds thinner than I was at this time last year. People always ask me....."How did you lose all that weight?" I quit eating!
